Mixed Media Projects

1. Make a game

Design a game board. The goal of the game is to get Odysseus home. Think of a catchy title for your game (e.g., Ah! Dice Sea!). Try to include as many of his adventures as possible, thinking up clever penalties for each. Consider color as one of the design elements in making the game board. In Homer's Odyssey, purple is mentioned seventeen times; red, eight times, and always as an adjective of wine; white, twenty-five times, and black, sixty-five times. Those with high-quality computer skills might want to consider designing a computer game.
